Can you keep a secret?

Remember the last time someone “blabbed” your secrets? Perhaps you were the one to let a story slip out by accident. How hard it is to keep news to ourselves. We tell one trusted friend, who shares with just one person and so on till the story is common knowledge. It seems nothing can be kept secret, at least not for very long. Good or bad, happy or sad...we just can't wait to tell!

So why is God so easy to keep quiet about? Too often we are strangely silent about the comfort our faith brings. We keep lips sealed when an opportunity to share the “Good News” appears, afraid of offending. Commanded to share our faith, we instead treat it like a shameful secret. What a contrast to the leper in today’s gospel. Healed miraculously, he was under strict instructions to “tell no one” yet he immediately spread the news far and wide. His infectious disease was replaced by an equally compelling contagion, enthusiasm for the work of God. It’s a disease we could all stand to catch. The leper had a story worth telling the world. Don’t you?

MAHALO FOR SHARING YOUR TREASURES

Do We Want To Be Healed?

In this wonderful story of the leper healed by Jesus, we have a great teaching about the desire to be clean, pure, whole. Far too often in life, we're not really sure that's what we want, at least not if it takes too much effort. We muddle through things; we botch things up. Then we sit back, hoping and praying all will somehow "magically" turn out all right. It raises an important question: "Do we truly want to be healed of the sins and afflictions that hold us back from a clean relationship with our family, our friends, our God?"

This question can be a harrowing one as the leper who desires healing discovers. True healing does not always come easily. We must take risks for healing to occur; and we must make some sort of effort. Indeed, there is rarely a "magical" moment when healing just happens: we must be a pro-active and put forth the effort as Christians to revitalize our lives and our churches through the power of the Holy Spirit. Are you ready to be healed?
